centor®

Since 1951, Centor has been better connecting people to their beautiful world outside through elegant, high-performance doors, screens and hardware systems. Today, Centor's world-leading Screen Systems and Integrated Doors define the ultimate luxury living experience in over 100,000 homes.

The W Exhibition is the UK's leading joinery and furniture manufacturing show, taking place on 27-30 September 2020. FIT Show is the annual event for the glass and glazing industry and will be taking place on 12-14 May 2020. Both will be at the NEC, Birmingham.

remmers

Remmers UK manufacture high quality, innovative, extremely durable wood preservation and protection products for the Joinery industry. With over 60 years of proven experience we provide one of the most comprehensive support services in the Joinery industry today.

TEKNOS

A leading supplier of water-based coatings to the joinery industry and long-time supporter of the BWF. Our paints protect and prolong exterior and interior woodwork and our solutions help optimise production and processes. Congratulations to the shortlisted entrants and good luck!

Timber Trade Federation
growing the use of wood

The TTF are committed to supporting and promoting the UK timber industry. Our members lead the way in supplying the UK with a wide variety of timber and timber products for the construction, joinery and design markets #TimberYouCanTrust citb

CITB is the industry training board for the construction sector. We work with the wider construction community to attract talent and to support skills development to create a world-class workforce ready for the challenges of today and tomorrow.

Woodworking Project of the Year Award

Kindly Sponsored by

centor®

The BWF Woodworking Project of the Year Award recognises innovation and the very best in design, application and ability in joinery manufacture. The Award is in memory of John Hedgecock, former Technical Director at the BWF. Those shortlisted have all demonstrated craftsmanship and technical excellence in their approach to challenging projects.

2019 SHORTLIST

George Barnsdale

For the design, manufacture and installation of over 200 customised wood windows and doors for Twenty Grosvenor Square, a Grade II listed property in London.

Gough's Joinery

For the design and build of a First World War memorial at the Catholic Church of St Francis of Assisi, near Solihull.

Gowercroft Joinery

For the design, manufacture and installation of over 300 timber external and internal joinery items at Templeton House, a Grade II listed property in Roehampton.

Product Design in Wood Award

Kindly Sponsored by

TEKNOS

The BWF Product Design in Wood Award recognises excellence in technical innovation, design and application in joinery product manufacture. Those who have been shortlisted demonstrate an innovative approach to a design problem and evidenced technical ability in their solution. All showcase how a customer-led approach has resulted in design excellence.

2019 SHORTLIST

Mann McGowan Group

For its innovative Palusol SW Fire Resistant Panelled Doors which provide architects the freedom to design a unique fire-rated panel door.

Tom Pearson & Sons Ltd

For a unique replacement entrance door solution that incorporated the original stained glass.

Arden Windows

For the re-design of its Stratford Door Range to improve the aesthetics and sightlines of multiple configurations of doorsets and sidelights/fanlights.

Apprentice of the Year Award

Kindly Sponsored by

The BWF Apprentice of the Year Award celebrates the achievements of woodworking apprentices. Previous winners of the Award have really stood out from the crowd, either through fantastic feats in their work or extraordinary commitment that has added value to their place of work. All of the apprentices who have been shortlisted demonstrate outstanding commitment and achievement.

2019 SHORTLIST

Bailey Donkin, ERW Joinery

According to his company: "In the four years that Bailey has been with ERW, we have seen him grow to become not only an outstanding joiner but an integral part of our team. His ideas and innovativeness sets him apart from not just other apprentices, but many other time-served joiners."

Indira Esser-Dunbar, Sebastian Cox

According to her tutor at the Building Crafts College: "She has shown massive skill, knowledge and interest in the skill of joinery and all aspects involved with the process. This includes weekend courses in tree felling and timber conversion and drying techniques."

William Wragg, Tom Pearson & Sons Ltd

According to his company: "His attitude towards work is exemplary and his thirst for knowledge has led to him being trained up in our small family-run workshop to do most jobs including operating CNC machinery, assembling, spray finishing and fitting work on site."

Rising Star Award

Kindly Sponsored by

The BWF Rising Star Award is a new category introduced to the 2019 BWF Awards. This category has been designed to recognise an individual whose dedication and hard work has made a real difference either to the organisation in which they work, or to the wider woodworking and joinery community. The two nominees who have been shortlisted for the first ever Rising Star Award certainly go the 'extra mile' for their colleagues and the business.

2019 SHORTLIST

Carol Bruce, HR Manager at Allan Brothers Ltd

According to her company: "We have been going through a major change transformation, of which Carol has been pivotal to. Her commitment to deal with all areas of the business and support colleagues has been a key factor in driving this change, despite Carol having no responsibility or control in these areas."

Kenlee Harris, Office Sales Manager at Gowercroft Joinery

According to her company: "Kenlee joined the business as a sales administrator in June 2017. In her role at Gowercroft, she has been instrumental in developing the administration role and whole sales department to ensure it can keep pace with increased customer demand and expansions of the production facility."

Process Efficiency Award

Kindly Sponsored by

Implementing lean processes maximises value for money, quality and speed of delivery. The BWF Process Efficiency Award recognises exceptional projects of this kind that have improved business performance. Those who have been shortlisted for the Award have demonstrated how their solution to a defined problem has added value both to the business and to their end-clients.

2019 SHORTLIST

End to End IT Ltd

For integrateJS, its 'access everything anywhere' cloud-based business management system.

2019 SHORTLISTED

Stairways Midlands

For ESTA, its in-house software solution for streamlining work processes from point of enquiry to delivery.

West Port Timber Windows & Doors

For its fire door manufacturing project which focussed upon customer value by reducing waste.

Health & Safety Hero Award

Kindly Sponsored by

The BWF Health & Safety Hero Award acknowledges individual or collective effort which has made a notable difference to the health and safety practices and culture within a business. The shortlisted Award entries all demonstrate a focused outcome and evidenced an on-going commitment to health & safety. The Award is in memory of Michael Lee, former Membership Director at the BWF.

2019 SHORTLIST

2019 SHORTLISTED

GE Door Manufacturing Ltd

For its health & safety first culture to drive continuous improvement across their factory, with clear measurement of colleague engagement and adoption.

George Barnsdale

For setting challenging goals for its commercial installation team's on-site health and safety practice and achieving industry accreditation.

JELD-WEN (Stairs division)

For their employee engagement and training approach which has helped them achieve 2,000 days without a lost time accident.

Award Judges

With many thanks to this years' judging panel, who had the extremely difficult task of shortlisting the outstanding Award entries this year.
