

Nomination Form for Ordinary Members of the BWF Council

The British Woodworking Federations Council is the main elected governing body of the BWF and is responsible for developing and upholding the aims of the federation, reporting into the BWF Executive Committee [Board].

Its aim is to represent the joint interests of the membership and the joinery and woodworking industry across the construction sector to ensure the BWF meets its aims and objectives set by the Council and Board. Membership of the BWF Council should be representative of the sector, sub-sector, size and spread.

The Council provides a forum for discussion that enables member companies to exchange views and identify common concern within the sector representing the membership, whilst helping to shape the future of the federation and its services.

If you are keen to join the Council and participate in developing the strategy for the joinery and manufacturing sector and are keen to hear other Council views, then please complete this form and return. Please note we can only take nomination from a Primary Member* of the BWF as per our Articles of Association.
